In the event the rescheduled game is part of a single admission double header, tickets for the game originally scheduled to be played on the double header game date will take precedence over the rain check and the rain check can either be (i) exchanged for the same price ticket for the single admission double header, subject to availability, or (ii) exchanged for the same price ticket for any regular season Mets home game within 12 months of the originally scheduled game, subject to availability. Exchanges at Citi Field ticket windows or by mail to Mets Ticket Office only. If issued complimentary, this ticket shall have no value and will not constitute a rain check.
